

RUSSIA BEYOND THE HEADLINES

Medvedev, Vietnamese president discuss bilateral agenda

November 18, 2015 INTERFAX

Russian Prime Minister Dmitry Medvedev and Vietnam's President Truong Tan Sang have met in Manila to discuss current bilateral relations and their development prospects.

"We will continue contact at all levels of leadership," the Russian prime minister said at the meeting.

He also thanked the Vietnamese leader for attending the 70th WWII anniversary festivities in Moscow and conveyed best regards from Russian President Vladimir Putin.

Subscribe to RBTH's Asia-related content

* indicates required

Email Address

First Name

Last Name