Explain to them how to conduct three-pronged attacks (military, political, and military proselyting attacks) in mountainous and lowland areas and how to motivate soldiers' families to call upon their husbands and sons to desert and return home.

As for the Vietnamese and Chinese residents who still can live in a legal status, guide them to struggle for social welfare and democracy. If they are suspected by the ((Cambodian authorities)), admit them to the Revolution and send them to join the resistance ((forces)).
